Remembering our Loved Ones

During the month of November grief and the pain of loss for loved ones is more keenly felt. In the remembering they become present to us in a different way. When we cannot find words for death and tragedy simple rituals say something for us.

Strength and consolation can come from the lighting of a candle, a name written into the November Dead list, the basket placed on the altar or a visit to the grave with a bunch of flowers. Masses for the dead can draw us into the movement of death and resurrection which is so much part of the human story.

Confession for the holy souls can heal difficult memories and help us to celebrate the good ones. Each one of us has his or her way of working through the grieving process and that needs to be respected. Fractured family life can add to the pain. Some are re-living the nightmare of a tragic road accident or a suicide. At this time of the year remember that "the Lord is close to the broken-hearted" and to you!

Thought for Today

Today's gospel brings us right to the heart of what a Christian life involves: love of God and of neighbour. Jesus tells us that having life both now and in the future is the fruit of living in a spirit of love. How have you experienced the power of love given, and received, as a source of life and vitality? If you were asked what is most important in life, what would your answer be? Recall the experiences and relationships you have had. Which are the ones that you treasure most? What has particularly enriched your life? How would you encourage another person who asked you how s/he could live a full life?

PRAYER

Lord our God, you are the one God and there is no other. Give us grace to hear and heed the great commandment of your kingdom, that we may love you with all our heart and our neighbour as ourselves. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God, for ever and ever. Amen.
